About GreenMan Theatre Troupe —

We elcome to Elmhurst, population 46,600+...visit the art museum, go to the symphony, take a class at the college, see a children's play, sample the many fine restaurants, see a play at the community theatre. "What community theatre?" That was the question that Jill Perez and Carole Thorpe asked. The answer? Start a new theatre for the Elmhurst community. Working with director David Soria, they formed GreenMan Theatre Troupe to offer opportunities to see live theatre, participate in plays, and enrich the community. It is our goal to produce high-quality plays and musicals drawn from many different genres. We also offer classes and workshops in theatre arts to the community. We envision this theatre finding a permanent home in the cultural life of Elmhurst and the surrounding community. We welcome you as members and patrons of the theatre. GreenMan Theatre Troupe looks forward to celebrating the spirit of theatrical creativity and working with the community to "keep theatre green" in Elmhurst for many years.

Our Mission:

- To provide diverse, quality theatrical entertainment for our audience.
- To provide opportunities for personal growth in theatrical arts for our members.
- To provide a source of cultural enrichment and pride for our community.

And just what is a GreenMan?

Before GreenMan Theatre Troupe was incorporated in June 2004, one of the many questions we faced was what to call ourselves.

We considered many names that might celebrate the history of the community or our pride within the community. We considered names that reflected the growth of the community and the elm tree, symbol of that growth and strength.

We then thought of the ancient symbol of creativity and renewal:

The GreenMan

Often carved on old churches and cathedrals throughout England (and now gracing many suburban gardens on decorative sculptures), the GreenMan is identified by a face peering out of dense leaves or branches.

In Celtic mythology, he is a spirit of spring and summer.

Disappearing and returning, year after year, century after century, the GreenMan reminds us of the ebb and flow of life and creativity.

Welcome!

Welcome to GreenMan Theatre, and welcome back to live-in-person indoor performances! We're excited to be able to participate in Music Theatre International's All Together Now! revue and to celebrate the return of in-person performances with theatres around the world.

Although our productions have been limited in scale over the last year and a half, GreenMan Theatre Troupe has stayed very active. We just wrapped up Spooky Stories and Songs of the Season with performances at First United Methodist Church and here at the Community Bank of Elmhurst. Over the summer, we performed Spoon River Anthology outdoors. GreenMan collaborated earlier in the year with the Elmhurst History Museum on a radio play podcast of The War of the Worlds. In addition, our group of storytellers has remained very active with several online streamed performances.

We are now busy planning for 2022 and hope to bring live theatre back to GreenMan with a show in late winter and another in the spring. Stay in touch with GreenMan Theatre Troupe on our website and Facebook page to learn more.

Please enjoy today's show and thank you again for your support of live theatre here at GreenMan Theatre!

— David Soria Artistic Director

Performers

Melissa Harrison (Performer and Music Director) — Melissa recently returned to the Chicago area after 10 years in California. Favorite roles include the Baker's Wife in Into the Woods, Miss Honey in Matilda, and Amy in Company. She taught at Emerald City Theatre in Chicago for many years, directing and music directing for their summer camps.

Amy Jackson (Performer) — Amy is a 23-year-old marketer and publicist in children's book publishing, and she's delighted to moonlight with GreenMan Theatre Troupe as a thespian! Her favorite past role was LeFou in a creative gender-swapped production of Beauty and the Beast. She received her B.A. in Theatre from Morningside University in Sioux City, Iowa (go Mustangs!).

Elizabeth Ley (Performer) — Elizabeth is delighted to be a part of All Together Now! with such a talented cast and crew. Recent roles include Clarissa in Spider's Web (Parker Players), Eliza in Pygmalion (Elgin Theatre Company), Charlotte Hay in Moon Over Buffalo (GreenMan Theatre), Emily in Disgraced (Oakton CC), Alice in You Can't Take It with You (Grove Players), and Lizzie Chapman in Miss Holmes (TWS). When not in rehearsal, Elizabeth teaches elementary students, practices Mandarin, and travels the world with her wonderful husband.

Valerie Meachum (Performer) — Valerie last sang around other people in Soirée Lyrique's summer program. She recently completed filming the fantasy feature By Sword or By Fire. GreenMan audiences may know her from Macbeth, The Laramie Project, and Pride and Prejudice, among others. She can often be found concocting costumes historical or fantastical.

Donna Miller (Emcee and Script Author) — Donna has worked on many productions with GreenMan Theatre Troupe and other troupes. She has been an elementary teacher for 30 years and currently teaches fourth grade. She is vice-president of her union and is passionate about her responsibilities in this role. She has been married for almost 30 years and has four grown children plus a Rhodesian Ridgeback. Donna loves the outdoors and being with family and friends. She is excited to emcee this production. "LIFE is a song; LOVE is the music." Γ

Christine Millins (Performer) — Christine just recently graduated from the University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign with a degree in Marketing. This is her first performance with the GreenMan Theatre Troupe! In college, she was involved in Illini Student Musical productions including Mamma Mia, Footloose, and the ISM Showcase. She is beyond grateful to be part of this show and wants to thank her family and friends for supporting her!

Brittani Moore (Performer) — Brittani is delighted to join All Together Now! Brittani is originally from Robbins, a small suburb of Chicago. She received a Bachelor's of Music degree in Vocal Performance from Northern Illinois University. Past performances include roles in Oklahoma with Skylight Music Theatre, My Fair Lady with Fireside Theatre, and Elephant and Piggie's We Are in a Play! with Citadel Theatre.

Special thanks to loved ones for the constant support.

Debbie Proska (Emcee and Script Author) — Debbie does most of her work with GreenMan Theatre behind the scenes, pulling together costumes and making props. She is excited to join this talented group of performers in this world-wide event. If she could find a job drinking coffee while reading historical fiction, life would be perfect. Until then, she works as an elementary school secretary in Glen Ellyn.

Kay Rower (Performer) — Soprano Kay Rower is a Seattle native and crossover artist who feels most at home performing in both operatic and musical theater canon. She received her Bachelor's degree in Theatre from UC San Diego, where she also studied musical theater and classical voice. When not performing, she enjoys spending her time out on the running trails, or else hunched over a sewing machine, creating all manner of pretty dresses for her overflowing closet.

Kate Troc (Performer) — Kate rediscovered theatre with GreenMan back in 2016, when she played Ginger in her first murder mystery dinner theatre production. Since then, she has appeared in several GreenMan shows and is very excited to be a part of the talented cast of All Together Now! Kate's lucky number is 4: she has 4 kids, 4 grandkids, and 4 dogs! When not entertaining theatre audiences, she is busy entertaining wine lovers as she makes her living as an artisan wine marketer. She hopes you enjoy the show!

Justin Vidovic (Performer and Co-Director) — Justin previously directed Monstrous Regiment and Moon Over Buffalo at GreenMan Theatre. He also played Sydney Carton in GreenMan's production of A Tale of Two Cities. He directs plays, which have included Miss Holmes, The Elephant Man, The Gravedigger, and The Three Musketeers, at Prairie State College where he is also an English professor. Favorite roles he has played in the past include Harold Hill, Sweeney Todd, Lumiere, Uncle Fester, Aramis of the Three Musketeers, Van Helsing, Dr. Frankenstein, and Frankenstein's Monster.

Additional Production Staff

Becca Easley (Co-Producer and Co-Director) — Becca is thrilled to be directing this project with Justin and Melissa. Earlier this year, Becca directed The War of the Worlds and has directed virtual plays with Echo Theatre Collective. Becca also helps GreenMan on the board as webmaster and as a video editor for the Variety Show, the Murder Mystery Retrospective, and various storyteller projects. Becca works as a software engineer with JP Morgan Chase & Co. She would like to thank the fabulous cast, crew, and partners at the Community Bank of Elmhurst for making this production possible and amazing!

Carolyn Thomas-Davidoff (Co-Producer) — Carolyn has directed some 15 murder mysteries with GreenMan Theatre, along with the storytelling shows Spooky Stories of the Season and other Spoken Word projects. Onstage, she played Lady Bracknell in our production of The Importance of Being Earnest. She is a former Artistic Director for the Children's Theatre of Western Springs and has also directed for Elmhurst Children's Theatre. She is a retired teacher who likes to silk paint, travel, and do storytelling. Carolyn would especially like to thank the cast and crew for their outstanding work and her long-suffering husband and daughter for their support.

David Soria (Artistic Director) — David has directed or helped behind the scenes on all of GreenMan's productions. Some of the many shows he has directed at GreenMan include Pride and Prejudice, Macbeth, and Shakespeare in Hollywood. David holds an MFA in directing from Illinois State University and has taught theatre at Illinois Wesleyan and Moraine Valley Community College. David thanks everyone who worked to make the production a success.

Chuck Erickson (Technical Director) — In addition to frequently being the show's technical director, Chuck was the Assistant Director for A Tale of Two Cities, the Producer and Technical Director for A Midsummer Night's Dream, and the Assistant Technical Director for Cash on Delivery! and Born Yesterday. He would like to thank Jim Ocasek for his insights and support. Chuck is following in the footsteps of his father, who designed and built many sets for theatre groups throughout the Northwest suburbs in the 1960s and 1970s. During the day, Chuck can be found engineering metal shapes for the Metal-Strip Mfg. Co. Finally, to CKR: "You ARE the sweetest thing in my life!"

Steven Soria (Sound Design and Program) — Steven has worked behind the scenes on all of GreenMan's productions, usually developing the sound design (or working on the tech crew) or editing the programs. Among his previous shows, he appeared as Harun al-Rashid in The Arabian Nights and as the Scottish nobleman Angus in Macbeth. Steven spent many years combining science and language by working as a technical editor for an engineering company in the Loop.

Spooky Stories and Songs of the Season

This year, our annual presentation of Spooky Stories and Songs of the Season was a particularly creepy evening of stories and songs. Most of the storytellers are drawn from a workshop on the art of storytelling we offer in the late summer and early fall. Because of COVID, production venues included an outdoor performance at the First United Methodist Church, as well as an indoor performance at the Community Bank of Elmhurst. Please contact Carolyn Thomas-Davidoff at thomdav@comcast.net or 708-254-4575 if you are interested in next year's class or production.
